

Registered Architects

In accordance with the Registered Architect Act, the TMG's responsibilities include registration, direction, and oversight of second-class and wooden-building architects and architects' offices, administrative work concerning the examinations for certification as second-class and wooden-building architects, and accepting applications for building standards engineer certification.