Tokyo was built up with the construction of railways*1.

With only 0.6 percent of Japan’s land mass, Tokyo supports the activities of 13 million people, approximately 10% of the total population. Land is used in many different ways here. Tokyo was built up with the development of railways.

The breakdown of private lands by use*2

- Commercial area
- Residential area
- Industrial area
- Agricultural land
- Mountain forests
- Others

Central 3 wards
- Private land 17.8 km
- Total 42.2 km

23 wards
- Private land 332.9 km
- Total 1160.1 km

Private land 557.1 km
- Total 626.7 km

Private land 890.0 km
- Total 1786.8 km

Private land 0.6 km
- Total 2.6 km

Private land 8.4 km
- Total 213.3 km

Private land 50.6 km
- Total 555.2 km

Private land 5.6 km
- Total 66.8 km

Private land 16.8 km
- Total 96.6 km

Private land 1.1 km
- Total 13.5 km

With only 0.6 percent of Japan’s land mass, Tokyo supports the activities of 13 million people, approximately 10% of the total population. Land is used in many different ways here. Tokyo was built up with the development of railways.

The breakdown of private lands by use*2

- Commercial area
- Residential area
- Industrial area
- Agricultural land
- Mountain forests
- Others

Central 3 wards
- Private land 17.8 km
- Total 42.2 km

23 wards
- Private land 332.9 km
- Total 1160.1 km

Private land 557.1 km
- Total 626.7 km

Private land 890.0 km
- Total 1786.8 km

Private land 0.6 km
- Total 2.6 km

Private land 8.4 km
- Total 213.3 km

Private land 50.6 km
- Total 555.2 km

Private land 5.6 km
- Total 66.8 km

Private land 16.8 km
- Total 96.6 km

Private land 1.1 km
- Total 13.5 km